

Log In & Off from MIT- Desktop

This Guide will show how to sign in and out from your MIT-Desktop

Log On

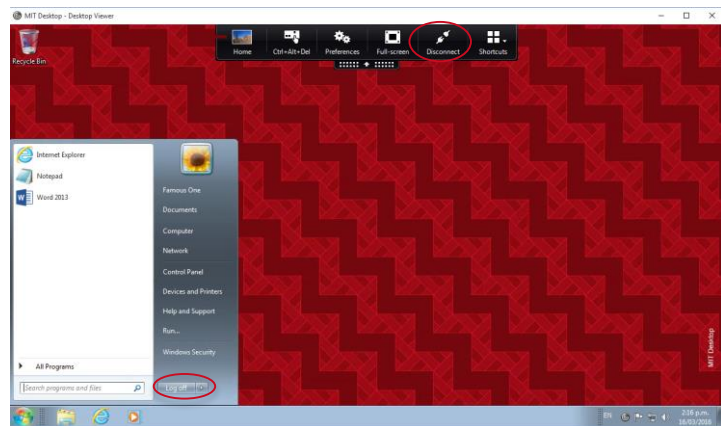

1. Open your favorite internet browser and navigate to our BYOD portal <https://apps.manukau.ac.nz>.
2. Log in with your username only and password.
3. At login you will see below window, note top right hand corner will show your name at successful login and if you click on arrow, pull down menu will also appear.

4. Click on MIT-Desktop , this will log you into your virtual desktop

Log off Vs Disconnect

1. While in your virtual desktop environment , you can click on Log off as normal
*Log off will close your session completely please ensure you save all your work in H drive or local drive
2. You can also choose to “Disconnect” this option will terminate your session temporary.

Your desktop state will be recorded and will remain same at your next login in case you need to work after a short while.

Important: Please save all your work before disconnecting, session will automatically reset if they are not used for a while on the same day
